

Intrex for Schools

A portal for teachers and students

The Friedrich Weinbrenner Vocational School (FWG)

The Friedrich Weinbrenner Vocational School (FWG) is located in the centre of Freiburg, Germany and integrates the four faculties "Stone", "Construction", "Wood" and "Painting". In different courses students are trained to become bricklayers, carpenters and constructional engineers either part- or fulltime.

Requirements

Efficient distribution of information is very important in the area of education. Personnel communication is difficult and time-consuming in a school with a big council and a spacious school area with several faculty rooms. The FWG wanted to solve this problem with a web based intranet which simultaneously improves the communication between several schools in the Freiburg region.

Solution

After the evaluation of several products the school decided in favour of Intrex. The user-friendly and self-explanatory handling of Intrex gave the teachers the idea to use the software for more than just an external use. They also wanted to implement an internal communication and administration platform. For more than 3 years Intrex visualised different parts of daily school business such as timetables, education and training offers and internal workflows.

Teachers are delighted in using the portal. They organise their internal work cycles online with applications e.g. the school calendar, room reservations or an overview of all the school events. An organiser supports the teachers on projects and other events. To-do-lists handle the time management within projects as well as the preparation of exhibitions or ecological tasks. The school portal also offers the possibility for teachers to update on trainings and also register online directly. Students can receive information about several professions taught at the Friedrich Weinbrenner Vocational School. They may also access e.g. their training manuals from their home pc.

Benefits

- Access to all educational material from within the school or from home
- Efficient data handling and less paperwork
- Optimisation of the internal workflows
- No programming skills required
